Offering

“We, your servants and your holy people, offer to your glorious majesty from your own gifts and bounty the pure victim, the holy victim, the spotless victim, the holy Bread of eternal life and the Cup of everlasting salvation” (Eucharistic Prayer I). In each of the Eucharistic Prayers of the Roman Missal, offering follows remembrance. “From the rising of the sun to its setting” (Malachi 1:11), Christ, the Lamb of the eternal sacrifice is present and offered to the Father under the form of bread and wine. In communion with the Church in every place, the priest and faithful offer to the Father the sacrifice that “brings salvation to the whole world” (Eucharistic Prayer IV). The offering of Christ, Head of the Mystical Body, cannot be separated from the offering of his members. In offering Christ, we learn to offer ourselves at Mass and in all the circumstances of life. There is room on the altar of Christ’s sacrifice for every joy, suffering, prayer and work of ours. “I appeal to you by God’s mercies,” says Saint Paul, “to offer up your bodies as a living sacrifice, consecrated to God and worthy of his acceptance” (Romans 12:1). The unity of the Church is forged in her one offering.

A Letter from Deacon Gary Hager

Another “beginning” is taking place today, in addition to the beginning of Church Year the First Sunday of Advent, followed by the birth of Jesus, the beginning of Jesus’ journey to rescue us from the chains of sin and Satan’s power, the beginning of the New Year on January 1st and today beginning of Ordinary Time of the Second Sunday in Ordinary Time. But what about the First Sunday of Ordinary Time? The mind-blowing answer... there is never going to be a First Sunday of Ordinary Time, because the last Mass of the Christmas Season is usually a Sunday, then the days to follow that Sunday are Ordinary Time, remember Sunday is the first day of the week, so no looking backward. This year Ordinary Time began on Tuesday, since the Baptism of the Lord was moved to Monday following Epiphany. Next year, 2025, the Liturgical Calendar will work out with the Baptism of the Lord celebrated the last Sunday of the Christmas season, January 12th with Ordinary Time beginning Monday, January 13th. And the Second Sunday in Ordinary Time on Sunday January 19th because that Sunday is beginning the 2nd week of ordinary time.

The scripture readings this Second Sunday in Ordinary Time have messages of “beginnings.” The reading from the book of 1st Samuel... Samuel is beginning to learn how to listen for God’s voice. God called Samuel four times before Samuel understood, from Eli’s coaching, to respond to God’s voice with these words, “Speak, for your servant is listening.”

The Psalm Response also has us responding, “Here am I, Lord; I come to do your will.” One of the Psalm verses reinforces the message of beginning, “to do your will, O my God, is my delight, and your law is within my heart.”

The reading of 1st Corinthians reminds the Corinthians and us that through following Jesus and receiving the Sacrament of Baptism of water and the Holy Spirit, we have a beginning. “Your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit within you, whom you have from God, and that you are not your own.” Our bodies are God’s. The writer, St. Paul, reminds us that “the body is not for immorality, but for the Lord.” We are to do God’s will, “to glorify God in your body.”

Lastly, John’s Gospel reading, has John the Baptist announcing and directing everyone’s attention to Jesus, saying “Behold, the Lamb of God.” In the Jewish tradition, the sacrifice of the lamb at Passover recalls the flee from slavery in Egypt to the promised land. John’s disciple, Andrew, recognized Jesus as the Messiah, the Christ, the Lamb of God, who will rescue the Jewish people from oppression. Andrew finds his brother Simon and leads him to Jesus. Here’s where another “beginning” occurs, Jesus looked at Simon and said, “you will be called Peter.”

The readings this Sunday point to a high bar. Samuel responds, “Speak, for your servant is listening.” The Psalm, “Here am I, Lord; I come to do your will.” 1st Corinthians, “your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit within you, whom you have from God, and that you are not your own.” Finally, the Gospel reads, Simon is called Peter.

The progression of the readings, the “high bar” concludes with Simon is called Peter. Why? Here’s my perspective. The Trinity: God, Jesus, and the Holy Spirit. Are the way to a life of love, fulfillment, joy, peace, plus much more. When we live outside the “high bar” in these readings, life is less fulfilling, love not as deep, joy is rare and peace is continually sought after through sex, drugs, alcohol, money, power, and many other earthly attractions to satisfy our appetites that only God, Jesus and the Holy Spirit are able to satisfy. But why Peter? Peter is God’s poster child of following those earthly attractions for love, fulfillment, joy, and peace. Peter denied knowing Jesus three times when Jesus was being judged; Peter and the others fell asleep as Jesus was in agony in the garden before Jesus was arrested; Peter didn’t follow Jesus, to the crucifixion, Peter abandoned Jesus; Peter lost faith when Jesus called him to walk on the sea, Peter doubted and began to sink. Peter failed to hear Jesus, as compared to Samuel responding to God’s call; Peter wanted comfort through sleep rather than to do the will of Jesus to stay awake; Peter denied knowing Jesus to save his own skin, when Jesus was being judged; Yet through all this Jesus called Simon to a new beginning. Peter translated is “rock.” Peter is the first Pope of the Church.

No one since Peter could mess up worse than Peter. I guess it is possible someone could mess up worse than Peter, by not repenting and receiving reconciliation with God through the Sacrament of Confession... a new beginning. To reach and live that “high bar” which God has called us to is a reality, of deep loving relationships, life of fulfillment, life of continual joy and an inner peace of heart that only God is able to provide.

God gave us free will, would you rather swim in a culture of immorality or receive God’s grace and expressing “Here am I, Lord; I come to do your will?”

Blessings,

“Jesus turned and saw them following him and said to them, ‘What are you looking for?’” - John 1:38

When we recognize who we are, it’s easier to find what we are looking for. Once we see ourselves, and others, as children of God, we spend less time looking for the material comforts of the world. Instead, our hearts long for something deeper that can only be filled by God. Ask God daily how He wants you to live the life He intended for you.
